Indulge with Lugo!

Food, fashion... according to John Meadow, they're all in the same boat: "indulgences," he said over lunch at his new restaurant, Lugo Caffè. Meadow naturally also has a store, Nolita's Lugo boutique, specializing in classic Italian tailoring. Chic Report caught up with the man behind the food and the fashion over a delicious lunch of antipasti (try the fried mushrooms!), homemade pasta, and pizza, including a sinfully good pizza/sandwich hybrid stuffed with Robiola cheese and truffle oil. "This doesn't have to be the worst neighborhood in Manhattan," joked Meadow of the restaurant's 33rd Street and Eighth Avenue location. Well, we know we'll be back!
